That to meet the requirements of all classes of buyers, the merchant must keep in stock, something over a double-handful of goods for choice and selections.

A little thread and needle store is well enough for the thread and needle trade, but when it comes to laying out money for a whole suit of clothes or an overcoat, most buyers had rather go where they can see roomfuls of such goods, and try one and another and another.

There is one such place handy by and that's all. - The

CHARLESTON COMPLAINS.

The People of the Earthquake City Disappointed in the President and the South Charleston Senators.

The Duke of Annapolis' Magnificent Gift to the People of France-Hungarians Whipped to Death for Sympathizing with Russia.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.-The World publishes the following from Capt. F. W. Dawson, editor of the Charleston News and Courier, who arrived last evening: "I am in a position to state from personal knowledge that the money so far received and now in sight, amounting to $450,000 or $500,000, will suffice to render habitable the house of those of our citizens who are absolutely without means to help themselves. I refer to the laboring people, poor widows and like, who owned little homes with mortgages upon them, and who would be utterly without resources to repair damages were it not for timely assistance."

Mr. Dawson, with some reluctance, spoke of the disappointment of Charleston people at President Cleveland's inattention, and said they felt even more bitterly toward Senators and other officials. But he said neither of whom had sent one word of sympathy.

A MERE FIGUREHEAD.

Secretary Manning Does Not Intend to Work. He Will Only Pose.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.-Secretary Manning's vacation will expire this evening, when he is expected here. Those who have been in communication with the secretary say that he looks with apprehension on his advent here. When he left this city last spring he did so with pleasure, because his illness had made the place distasteful. He had hoped to be able to retire, but the persistence of the president in urging him to remain in the cabinet until at least the elections are over has forced him to return.

Manning was said to work by slow degrees at first. He will not devote himself to details as he used to do, but will satisfy himself with being merely a figurehead. He will go to the cabinet meetings, and will try to act the necessary anyhow.

A Privately Held.

PARIS, Oct. 1.-The will of the Duc d'Angoulême, bequeathing his great estates at Chantilly, with all their appurtenances, works of art, books and revenues, to the French Institute in trust for the people of France, is dated in 1884. The duke explains that he wishes to have the transfer made now for the express purpose of avoiding legal complications which might be instituted by claimants or heirs after his death. The gift is accompanied with but one condition, and that is that the property must be preserved as intact as it shall be on the day that it comes into the possession of the trustees and estates are to be called the C. N. E. museum, are to be opened to the public at least twice a week during six months of the year.

A Mob Reel.

SLEEVETOWN, Mo., Oct. 1.-A mob broke into the jail last night and took out Wallace, who is charged with the murder of the Logan family, and told him he had but a few minutes to live and asked him to say anything he wanted to. He said he was innocent; that Wallace was the murderer, and had given him $200 to keep quiet. The crowd roared, drew him up in mid-air, then let him down, and when he recovered, asked him again to confess. He repeated, vehemently, his denial. The crowd began to relent; several appeals for mercy were made, and the prisoner was finally given to the sheriff, who locked him up.

A Drunken Convention.

AKRON, Oct. 1.-The democratic congressional convention of the Twentieth district met here yesterday and nominated William Dorsey, of Cleveland. The air in the convention hall was filled with whisky fumes, the delegates having taken on drinks from their candidate in his rounds of the saloons. One of the secretaries was so drunk that he fell from his chair during the session and emptied the contents of his stomach on the floor. Various speeches were made to show that Dorsey is a democrat, and his nomination is not purely sop laid out to the laboring men.

Great Lookout Pending.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.-A statement is published this afternoon that a great lookout at the stockyards has been decided upon some time during this month, when the packing houses will all close and remain so until the question of eight hours or ten hours is settled.

The Chicago Packing and Provision companies have decided to repair this October shut-down will be significant. Those who apply for work can go to work at ten hours, or they can stay out.

Proposed Profit Sharing.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1.-The Rochester (Pa.) Lumber company has notified their employees that part of the company's profits will be distributed among them at the end of the term beginning October 4, 1886, and concluding October 1, 1887. It is proposed to distribute about $4,000 among the men as a recognition of their faithful services. The money will be paid as a bonus for making big wages.

A Battle With the Women.

DUBLIN, Oct. 1.-At Milltown, Malbay, County Clare, yesterday while the sheriffs were employed in discharging the property of a man named Kelly, the married women of the neighborhood attacked, overpowered and imprisoned all of the officers engaged, while their husbands removed them from the locality.

Going Right Along.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.-The store of A. S. Sage & Co. was reopened this morning by the assignee, under order of Judge Fitzgerald. The business is carried on as usual. The liabilities and assets have not yet been scheduled, but the former are estimated at $800,000 and the latter at over $100,000.

Victorious Fire at Hamilton, Mo.

HAMILTON, Mo., Oct. 1.-One of the most disastrous fires ever visited this city occurred yesterday. The fire originated in L. E. Rigby's hardware store. Two buildings, a brick and a frame, were destroyed. The loss amounted to $50,000. Insurance $30,000.

Whipped to Death.

MOSCOW, Oct. 1.-The Gazette declares that thirty-five persons have been whipped to death for expressing sympathy with Russia's enemies in Bulgaria.

DEMOCRATIC DUPLICITY.

Fred Mussey Stirs Up the Democrats with a Sharp Pen-What They Have Done and How They Have Prostituted Their Party.

Fred Mussey, the talented correspondent of the Commercial Gazette, has in today's issue of that paper a letter from Springfield on the democratic situation in this district. Following are a few extracts from it: The demoralization of the democratic party is well illustrated in this district. Here the party does not even appear in the campaign as a party at all. It did not dare nominate a candidate for congress.

How is that for the grand old party of principle, rock-ribbed and ancient as the hills? The democrats of the district, about sixteen thousand strong, propose to support for congress a man who voted for Leonard for governor, and who, up to that time, had voted a straight republican ticket, and, as effectively as his limited abilities would permit, has fought the democracy all his life. The sixteen thousand democrats of the Eighth district propose to support for congress a republican, a prohibitionist and a protectionist all in one.

Is there any dose a Democrat won't swallow, any crow he won't eat, any limit to his willingness to crawl on his belly and stick his nose into the dirt? Poor old party, it's a cold autumn for you in Ohio. But there is a feature of the situation in this district that makes the average Ohio Democrat desperate, and that is that Bob Kennedy is the nominee for congress. The two best-hated republicans among the democrats are Foraker and Kennedy, and the hatred toward the latter is as bitter as death. The thought that he is about to receive new and greater honors at the hands of the republicans makes old Mr. Boodie Democrat froth at the mouth, and he ruins the lumps and contusions on his pate raised there by General Kennedy's gavel, and curses up the full limit of the United States language.

Senator Van Cleef, who especially distinguished himself in the last state senate, over which "King Bob" it may be remembered, presided to a considerable extent, was one of the leaders in the movement to commit the democracy of his district, which he had fondly hoped would send him to congress, to the support of a protection-prohibitionist.

With its almost unlimited capacity for that sort of thing, it may be said that not often in a district in Ohio have the democrats put themselves in a more puerile, cowardly and disgraceful position than here.

There is not one grain of honesty or manliness in the campaign they are making in this district. If there were there would be a straight democrat running on a straight and outspoken democratic platform, and honestly presenting their case and fairly seeking the support of the elements they now sneak behind and trample to.

There are some funny things in the situation, such as are apt to grow out of political inequities. It is funny to observe the sudden and wild change of front made by the democrats for that self-complacent, semi-comic candidate, Mr. McMillin. They struggle for a chance to get their arms around him to hug him to their bosoms and bathe him with tears of joy, while they search for the straw which makes him a democrat.

Here are democrats who, if they ever got to heaven, would try to get St. Peter suspended as a doorman for not declaring himself a democrat, patting Brother McMillin on the cheek and calling him "Old Honesty, dear Old Honesty," and speaking of him as an "ideal candidate." It is enough to make a horse laugh to see democrats in their desperation coddling a heretofore unknown mediocre old protection prohibitionist as an "ideal" democratic candidate.

There is no reason why any republican in this district should be dodging shadows or sniping about in silence. There never was a time in Ohio when it was more honorable to fight the battles of Republicans than now. Was there a republican in this district who did not watch with pride the course of our senators and leaders in the senate last winter, and hailed with joy the result? Now, the standard bearer is the man who hattered the head of the beast, and whose name was upon the lips in praise of every republican and lover of honesty and decency.

With such a gallant representative of true republicanism at their head, their feet on the old-time republican platform, the party flag flying, the republicans of the Eighth district have only to go forward in the old-time, bold and aggressive march, challenging all to join the ranks and march to the old-time music, and the old-time result will ensue.

COURT NOTES.

Divorce Decree Granted-The Grand Jury to Make a Partial Report Tonight.

The case of Wm. D. Baird vs. John Hawken, was heard to Judge White in the court of Common Pleas this morning. It is a suit on a promissory duty, the defense being usury. The jury was impeached but by consent of counsel, waived, and the case went to Judge White alone. It will be completed this afternoon.

Rosa Laybourne was granted a decree of divorce from John Laybourne, on the ground of adultery committed at a winter street bawdy.

The petit jury was discharged until Monday.

The grand jury will make a partial report of true bills found, this evening, and adjourn until Monday. They cannot complete their work until late next week.

They Will Move.

County Clerk J. H. Rabbits will soon move from his present residence, No. 2 Maple avenue, to the house now occupied by his father, Charles Rabbits, between George H. Frey's and the Northern school building. Mr. Rabbits, sr., and family will occupy Joe Cartmell's residence on north Limestone street, as the latter is soon to occupy his elegant new domicile on East High street, opposite Christ church (Episcopal).

Not so Bad.

Conversation in the office of a Justice of the peace not a league from the Globe-Republic office: Young lawyer: "Have you heard that case of S. vs. J. - yet, Squire?" J. P.: "It isn't finished yet. I've heard it partially."

By-stander: "It would have been a great deal more to your credit if you had heard it impartially."

THE REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN.

Gen. Robert P. Kennedy Assigned to the Various Counties of the District-The Campaign He.

As briefly mentioned in yesterday's paper, the republican campaign committee of the Eighth congressional district, met for consultation at Room No. 40, Arcade hotel, yesterday afternoon. Those in attendance were R. F. Hayward, state central committee; W. E. Service, of Clark county; Royal J. Winder, campaign committee; E. R. Watts, of Union; M. H. Moore, of Pickaway, and J. A. Coulter, of Logan, all except Mr. Hayward being chairmen of their respective county central committees. R. F. Hayward presided and Mr. Winder, of Champaign, acted as secretary.

The afternoon was devoted to a free and informal discussion of plans. The principal business was the assignment of General Robert P. Kennedy to the various counties in the district, for speeches. The general's time was divided up as follows:

Logan county-From Oct. 3 to Oct. 9, Pickaway county-Oct. 11 to Oct. 13, Madison county-Oct. 14 to Oct. 16, Clark county-Oct. 18 to Oct. 23, Champaign county-Oct. 25 to Oct. 30.

No definite arrangements were made. In regard to the time of Gen. Kennedy's appearance in this city and the matter was left to the local campaign committee of which O. E. Service, chairman of the county central committee is a member. As assigned to Clark county, he will speak in this city some time between Oct. 18 and 23. Another detail that came before the committee yesterday was the matter of exchanging speakers among the different counties. Messrs. Hayward made a masterly list of Clark county orators, chiefly members of the local bar, who would be available for meetings in other counties of the district. This list was given to Mr. Winder, the secretary.

Chairman Service received a telegram at 1 o'clock this afternoon from the state central committee at Columbus stating that Hon. A. L. Morrison, a prominent and brilliant speaker, understood to live at Chicago, would probably speak in Springfield on the evening of either October 15th or 16th. More definite announcement will be duly made.

The announcement in an evening paper that Hon. Ben Butterworth was to speak here was entirely without authority.

OPEN CAMP-FIRE.

Admirable Programme Rendered at the A. R. Hall Last Night.

Owing to the evident necessity yesterday, the pole-raising at the old mill, did not come off yesterday, although quite a crowd assembled to see the ceremony. But notwithstanding the severe storm which threatened in the early part of the evening, there was a good turnout at the open camp-fire given by Mitchell Post, No. 45, G. A. R., last night, at their hall on south Limestone street. All who were present expressed themselves as highly pleased with the program, which was varied and interesting.

Wm. M. Beckel, esq., delivered an eloquent oration on "The Volunteer Soldier," which contained much of admirable sentiment couched in eloquent language. It was received with marked enthusiasm. During its delivery a typical individual made an ass of himself by interrupting the speaker and talking about it, but he was finally led out and sent home, much to everybody's relief.

Miss Lizzie Miller executed a pleasing solo, "Hortensia," by Langley in a finished and skillful manner. (D. W. Stroud read some humorous war reminiscences with keen appreciation, which were well received.) Captain Thomas J. Kirkpatrick recited, "Why He Wouldn't Sell the Farm," an anonymous production appropriate to the occasion, and dealing with war times. He responded to a recall with Charles Follen Adams's quaint poem, "Mein Heim." Captain Kirk excels in dialect, and his recitations were well received. Miss Miller sang "Let Me Love You," by Ardit in a very sweet and finished manner that took the house by storm. (Comrade J. H. Grover followed in recitations which were well received. (The first was "Sir John Franklin," by Gen. Geo. H. Baker, minister to Turkey; the second, "The Yarn of the Nanny Bell," (after Coleridge), by Gilchrist. The third was a humorous and original recitation of a "spelling-bee," entitled "A Bob-Tailed Bumble Bee with His Tail Cut Off."

This closed the meeting-whether by design or accident is not known-and the well-pleased crowd dispersed after joining in the hymn "America."

At the next regular meeting Commander Shearer will read the general order from national headquarters aiding Charleston, a digest of which has already been given in these columns.

MADE WELCOME.

Pleasant Reception to Dr. Runyan's Family at the Central M. E. Church Last Evening.

Rev. Wm. Runyan, D.D., the new pastor of the Central M. E. church, and his estimable wife and family, were tendered a very pleasant and cordial reception last evening at the lecture-room of the church. There was a very large attendance, not only of members of the church, but of representatives of other denominations. Dr. Falcouer, Rev. W. H. Warren, Rev. Henry Tuckley, and one or two ministers in attendance upon the Wittenberg synod, represented the clergy. Dr. Gotwald sent his regards.

Rev. Henry Tuckley, of St. Paul's, delivered an address of welcome to Dr. Runyan on behalf of the Methodist clergy of the city and the denomination generally. The speech was in Mr. Tuckley's happiest vein, and fairly sententious with humorous hits. It was a welcome improvement upon the conventional prosy address usually expected on such an occasion, and was received with marked satisfaction. J. W. Burns, of the church congregation, then welcomed Dr. Runyan, in fitting remarks, on behalf of the congregation. The Doctor responded to both, expressing his sense of appreciation of the welcome he and his family had received, and pledging himself to work as God should direct him, to the best interests of the congregation. Mrs. J. Runyan also spoke in a pleasant and acceptable manner, showing herself to be a lady of high intellectual attainments. She dwelt with graceful emphasis on the liberties allowed to women under the Methodist creed.

After a few words by Dr. Falcouer, of the First Presbyterian church, refreshments were served and the remainder of the evening spent sociably. Mrs. J. Runyan and his family are a distinct accession to the intellectual circles of Springfield, as well as to the clergy.

Hobby at Osborn.

Chief of Police Walker received word this morning from Marshal Brannum, of Osborn, that $100 worth of green hides had been stolen yesterday morning. No particulars as to the robbery were received, or from whom the hides were stolen. The Osborn authorities thought the thieves had come in the direction of Springfield, and a sharp lookout has been established here.

PROCEEDINGS OF SYNOD.

Discussion Upon the Admission of St. Paul Church, Mansfield-It Is Admitted.

Assignments for City Pastors, Sunday-The Synod Takes a Recess and Visits the Wittenberg-Full Proceedings to Soon.

Synod reassembled at 3:30 o'clock. The president announced Rev. E. Minter, Rev. A. F. Martin, Philip Long, as a committee on claims.

Rev. D. H. Bauslin moved that the committee on claims be instructed to add the deficit of this year for synodical fund to the apportionment for the coming year, which was received.

The president was taken up and the secretary read the report. The question being asked whether the congregation would be self-sustaining, Hon. M. D. Harter, as commissioner from the church, stated that the congregation was and expected to be self-sustaining, that they expected to call a pastor and pay him promptly whatever they promised, and that besides they expect to meet all their obligations, the same as any other church of the synod.

Other questions were raised and discussed by Dr. Wiles, Revs. Dunlap, Sikes and Kunkleman, and Messrs. Harter, Douglas and Emminger, and others, mostly more or less interested parties. The principal question raised was whether St. Paul's church should be allowed to go into the congregation of the First church, and be personally solicited, proselytizing members to the new church. Mr. Harter said he could make no pledges in that matter, though the church would officially not countenance such a measure. But the action of individual members could not be so controlled. He did know, however, that there were a number in the First church who had already determined to join St. Paul, and others were considering the matter. They would need the members, and they should probably use some persuasion to secure them.

Dr. Wiles stated that his conference had determined not to enter protest against the reception of St. Paul's church by the synod, and had agreed to grant letters of dismissal to any member who asked to be transferred to the new church, as soon as it was recognized and received by the synod. Rev. Solomon, of St. Paul's, stated that those members who would leave the First church had already made up their minds, and the matter would speedily right itself, and cited a similar case of another denomination in Tiffin. The matter was discussed for more than an hour, in a very able manner, and when the vote was finally taken on the report of the committee, it was carried unanimously.

St. Paul's church, the apostle church, was carried unanimously. The report will be the regular delegate from this church, Mr. Harter being the alternate. As the discussion was not ended when the time came for adjournment the time was extended fifteen minutes.

Rev. Samuel Sprecher, D.D., L.L.D., Joseph Kyle, pastor of the U. P. church, Henry Tuckley, pastor of St. Paul M. E. church, and Rev. P. Burns, of Miami synod, who were present, were received as advisory members.

The evening service, Rev. M. L. Kunkleman preached the annual sermon on Education to a large congregation in the Second church. He took for his text the words found in St. Matthew 9: 38, "Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest that he will send forth laborers into his harvest." The sermon was a masterly plea for the cause of education and for more young men to enter the ministry. Rev. J. M. Sikes occupied a seat in the pulpit and assisted in the services.

The change in the evening meeting was made necessary by the receipt of a telegram at a late hour, from Rev. J. A. Clutz, that he could not be present before Saturday evening, and asked that the subject of missions be postponed until that time, when Rev. Mr. Singley will preach the sermon announced for last evening.

Third Session-Friday Morning.

The usual devotional services were held from 8:30 to 9 o'clock, led by Rev. A. Schafer.

Synod opened at the regular hour with prayer by Rev. A. R. Howbert. The roll was called and the minutes read and approved.

The president presented an invitation from Dr. Ort to visit the college. On motion synod met 11:30 a. m. for adjournment to visit the college in compliance with this invitation.

On motion of Dr. Gotwald it was ordered that Mrs. Henrietta S. Monroe be heard in behalf of scientific temperance instruction in the public schools.

Rev. A. Schafer made statement regarding Kenton as a good field for missionary operations. On motion it was referred to the favorable attention of advisory board of home missions.

Dr. Gotwald, from the committee on religious services, reported the following assignment of ministers to the city pastors: First Lutheran-Morning, Rev. J. C. Zimmerman; evening, Rev. C. S. Emberger.

Second Lutheran-Morning, communion sermon, Rev. S. Schwarz; evening, ordination sermon, Rev. D. H. Bauslin; preparatory sermon, Sunday, 2:30 p. m., Rev. H. Knodel.

First Presbyterian-Morning, Rev. D. H. Bauslin; evening, Rev. J. A. Clutz. Second Presbyterian-Morning, Rev. M. L. Kunkleman; evening, Rev. F. M. Poreh. St. Paul's Methodist-Morning, Rev. H. L. Wiles, D. D. High Street Methodist-Morning, Rev. W. H. Singley, D. D.

Congregation-Morning, Rev. Thomas Hill; evening, Rev. W. M. Smith. Congregational chapel, Lagonda avenue-Evening, Rev. J. R. Sikes. First Baptist-Morning, Rev. G. M. Grau; evening, Rev. E. K. Baker.

Disciples church, Temperance hall-Morning, Rev. A. R. Howbert; evening, Rev. J. M. Distenfeld. Gospel temperance meeting, 3:30 p. m.-Revs. S. Schwarz, F. M. Poreh and G. M. Grau.

The chairman announced that there would probably be applications from other churches, which would be filled. The appointment committee was instructed to apportion $200 for beneficiary education, four cents per capita for synodical treasury, and two cents per capita for pastors' fund.

with instructions to formulate some practical plan for publishing the same.

The president announced as a committee on resolutions, on the temperance, Sunday and similar questions, Revs. L. A. Gotwald, J. B. Helwig and Thomas Hill. The hour having arrived for visiting Wittenberg college, the synod adjourned and went to the college in a body.

Synodical Notes.

Rev. S. P. Snyder was one of the founders of the Philo society.

Rev. G. N. H. Peters, of this city, but who is without a charge, is one of the oldest members, but had a break of several years while in the west.

"Mike" Harter, as he is familiarly known by his friends, showed himself a cautious and shrewd manipulator in his management of the case of St. Paul's church.

"Freakers" got their hats mixed just the same as other people. One claims that at the Central M. E. church reception last night, he got worsted in the exchange.

Rev. D. W. Smith severs his connection with Wittenberg synod at this session after a continuous membership of twenty-one years, having served churches in Wapakoneta, Mansfield and Springfield. To him it seems like parting with old friends.

Rev. J. Crouse, D. D., is the oldest member of the synod, having helped to organize the synod at Washingtonville, June 8, 1847, thirty-nine years ago. He has remained in active membership ever since. Rev. A. B. Howbert, of Bellefontaine, has been a member for thirty-three years and is consequently the next oldest member.

HOME MISSIONS.

Report of Dr. Falcouer at the Presidency-Rev. Dickson's Interesting Talk.

In its report of the session of the Dayton Presbytery the Xenia Gazette says: At the annual meeting last night the house was filled, and the audience highly entertained by the instructive talks on "Home Missions." The chairman of the committee on this work, Rev. Falcouer, of Springfield, read the report of the committee, and while presenting the encouraging side of this important work, showed, by calling attention to the great evil forces at work in our land, the great need of earnest, faithful work. He sighted the fact that the evils of socialism, communism and intemperance are backed by wealth that puts to shame the contributions of the church to home mission work. But Christ was their leader, and they were sure of success if they would but follow him.

Rev. Dickson, of Clinton, who has just returned from an extended trip to the Pacific coast, gave an interesting talk, describing his journey through the great Rockies and the western plains, and what he thought the future possibilities of this part of our country were. He felt that they had much to encourage them in their home mission work. There was great glory in accomplishing work under great difficulties, and that if they put forth all their energies, they need have no fear that the banner of God would trail in the dust.

OUR CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATE.

Talks About the Situation in the District-When He Will Be Here-Gossip About Speakers.

General R. P. Kennedy stated to a Globe-Republic representative as he was passing through the city yesterday that he would hold a series of meetings in Logan county next week, a series in Champaign county week after next, and would probably visit this county during the following week. He was in the best of spirits. With reference to Logan county, he said that the prospects are that it will give the largest republican majority ever gave, and thought that from 1,300 to 1,500 would not be placing the figures too high.

"Who will probably assist you in the campaign in this district?" "I can't say definitely," replied the general. "Senator Frye, of Maine, promised me that he would come, but I had a letter from him a few days ago saying that, owing to some new complications that have arisen in the fishery question, he would be unable to come. Major McKinley will probably come, and Hon. Ben. Butterworth, of Cincinnati, will very likely be here soon. Governor Foraker will also make some speeches in this district."

THE WARTHUR LANDS.

Nearly Half a Million Dollars Allocated by the Appraisers Under the Supreme Court Decision.

The laborious task of appraising the lands involved in the litigation growing out of the McArthur will, has been completed by the commissioners of appraisement-W. H. Reed, of Chillicothe; J. M. Lane, of Pickaway county, and General Cowen, of Cincinnati-and their report was filed in the U. S. court. The total amount under the appraisement of the parties is in interest, $437,666.42. The amount due from the occupants of these lands to the beneficiaries under the will is set out in the report. Some of them bought at less than the real value of the lands on account of the cloud on the title; others have a good warranty behind them, and others still will lose the full amount found to be due the McArthur beneficiaries.

The Organized Street Utriches.

About forty bootblacks and newshaws met at the depot Wednesday night to complete the "Newsboys and Bootblacks' Association and Protective Union of Springfield," briefly mentioned yesterday. J. Wilson Becker, the president, was chairman of the meeting. Several new members were admitted and one offender "fired." The boys expect to appear in their new union caps in a short time. The roster of the association so far is: J. W. Becker, Richard Morse, Ed. Clark, Nick Jackson, Claude Porter, Daniel Taylor, Jesse Devoy, Chester Guiney, Jim Patton, Ed. Allen, Tom Dudley, Ray Smith, Orrey Smith, Ed. Underwood, Gibson Luns, Henry McManama, Henry Leitchum, Bert West, Claud Craig. The boys seem very much in earnest.

A Fraternal Visit.

The members of Palestine commandery, No. 33, Knights Templar, and their ladies, will pay a fraternal visit tonight to Rev. Sir Knight Frank G. Mitchell, presiding elder of the Springfield district, at his residence on Franklin street. Rev. Mitchell is a member of the commandery, and during his residence here took a prominent part in its doings, but removed from the city and severed his active ties. It is to renew these in a social and fraternal way that the visit will be paid tonight. The knights and their ladies will assemble first at the residence of Sir Knight
